

(EXCERPT)

Drew Pearson at 6:45 p.m. over WTOP (Washington) and various other stations throught the country:

PEARSON: "Central Intelligence Exclusive: Director Allen Dulles has warned that the Russians may launch another half dozen satellites within the next three weeks. The CIA warning is very grim. The next Russian satellites, it says, will be bigger and fancier, some of them carrying live monkeys to test the effect of outer space on living creatures."